

AV / home automation sales person

We have an exciting position within a busy growing home automation company in the heart of Queensland's growth sector.

A competitive package and job security awaits the successful candidate who joins this young and dynamic group, supplying integrated solutions to a broad retail and builder / developer client network.

You will have a proven track record in sales of a wide range of control systems and audio visual products. You are a self motivated and dedicated designer with an ability to work under pressure.

Call Joe Blair on 0403 073570 for a bit of a chat